SUPREME COURT STRIKES CO-OP. MARKETING

SECTION 27 FEELS BRUNT OF DECISION

LATTER HAS BEEN MAINSPRING OF LARGEST CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS

DECISION AFFECTS THE POTATO GROWERS, CREAMERY MEN, WHEAT GROWERS, ETC.

(By United Press)

St. Paul, June 5.—The state supreme court today dealt the Minnesota Farmers' Co-operative Marketing Law a death blow.

The court ruled that section 27 of the law passed at the 1923 session of the legislature is illegal.

This section is one on which the largest co-operative associations of the state has come into existence.

As a result of the court's decision, the Minnesota Potato Growers' Association, the Minnesota Co-operative Creamery Association, the Minnesota Wheat Growers Association and other similar organizations will be hard hit.

Backers of the co-operative movement held this section is the heart of the co-operative law. The section was the subject of countless hot fights at the last session of the legislature and co-operative proponents won in a closely contested race, preventing repeal of the section.

Much of the legislation on which co-operatives in other states of the union operate is modelled after the Minnesota law, and the supreme court's decision today may have an indirect bearing on the future of that form of associations.

Today's decision was handed down in connection with two appeals on similar cases.

Judge Charles Bechhoefer, Ramsey county court, is sustained in his ruling that the section is illegal. The decision was given in the case of Louis S. Schwartz against the Rice County Co-operative Egg & Poultry Association.

Judge C. M. Tifft, LeSueur county court, is reversed in his ruling that the section is legal. Judge Tifft's decision was made in connection with the suit of the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-operative Association aganist A. P. Radke, of LeSueur, Minnesota.

ALL LIFE IS EVOLUTION, SAYS LUTHER BURBANK

PLANT WIZARD GIVES UNITED PRESS AN INTERVIEW

WORLD FAMOUS NATURALIST HAS SOME POINTED IDEAS

(Written for the United Press)

EDITORIAL NOTE—Luther Burbank world-famous naturalist, has some pointed ideas on evolution, which are particularly timely in view of the forthcoming Tennessee trial.

In the following article, written exclusively for the United Press, Burbank supports evolution as proven to him in his work with plants.

By LUTHER BURBANK

Santa Rosa, Calif., June 5.—Every nation that does not believe in evolution will eventually disappear from the earth.

Indictment of the Tennessee teacher for teaching evolution in a high school of that state is a step 1,000 years backward.

Evolution is truth and truth must and will prevail. All my work with plants here in Santa Rosa daily demonstrates evolution.

All growth, all life is evolution. Our simple household furniture resulted from evolution.

Ignorance Fights Growth

Ignorance always has and always will fight evolution for evolution is growth. The people, groups of whom are combating the theory of evolution have not found the truth and do not believe in it.

They do not believe in it. The theory of evolution should be taught in the public schools. Young children should be instructed in the truth, and evolution is truth. Daily I am working on new plant species which are produced through a knowledge of the laws of evolution and which can be produced in no other way.

When I first came to California, there was not a plum grown here that would stand the long journey to the eastern markets. I therefore produced many varieties which would keep in a salable condition until they reached the markets in New York and Chicago and other eastern and European cities, chiefly through application of well-known laws of evolution.

Accords With Religion

Evolution is contrary to theology, which may account for some of the animosity it has aroused, but it is not contrary to religion. Theology is man-made, religion is not, truth is supreme.

All life on the planet is one universal life constantly evolving into higher and better forms, not at first created perfect as some theologians would have us believe, but left to man for further evolution and improvement.

It is much more flattering to me to think that we are evolving into something better than, as the old theologians would have us believe, that we were created in the Garden of Eden and fell into disgrace afterward.

Even a man who would construct a machine that would go wrong so quickly and so thoroughly would be called a very poor mechanic.

The universal force, which is creating all things, is belied by such an application.

New York, June 5.—Men may attend Rev. Geo. Egbert's church in their shirt sleeves during the hot weather. They need not even bother about wearing a collar.

CLAIM IT'S UP TO GERMANY TO OBSERVE TERMS

RESTS WITH HER IF SHE WANTS TO INSURE ALLIED EVACUATION

ALLIED NOTE ON DISARMAMENT DEFAULTS GIVEN THE GERMANS

(By United Press)

London, June 5.—The allied note on Germany's disarmament defaults delivered to German Chancellor Luther yesterday shows that it rests with Germany to insure allied evacuation of Teuton territory.

This the note made public this evening, can be accomplished by Germany showing her good intention to rectify her shortcomings in respect to fulfilling the Versailles treaty clauses.

The note enumerates Germany's faults, chief of which is charged to be her failure to reorganize "her security police" on non-military lines.

For instance, Germany houses her police in barracks, military fashion, and it is claimed the force is overstocked.

Secondly, the note accuses Germany of having failed to meet the requirements for conversion of factories into strictly peacetime producers. It is charged some factories are still able to make munitions.

Thirdly, the note claims that Germany has failed to deliver certain surplus war material. The note further accuses Germany of failure to organize her army in compliance with the Versailles stipulations. This is aimed particularly at maintenance of a general staff which existed before the war. The note demanded abolition of the staff and decrees which constituted the high command.

HUSBAND REFUSED TO GO ON OUTINGS

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE BECAUSE HE DECLINED HOUSE PARTY INVITATIONS

Minneapolis, June 5.—Refusal on the part of the husband to accompany his wife on outings and house parties is listed as a cause of complaint in the divorce action filed with the clerk of the district court by Mrs. Marjarie L. Kidder, 25 years old, against her husband, Merle W. Kidder, 27 years old, who lives with his parents 10 miles south of the city.

Among other allegations, the complaint states that the husband "has been in the habit of consulting his parents and members of his family and not the plaintiff on all matters affecting the welfare of the plaintiff and defendant, and has excluded this plaintiff from any share in his plans and counsel, and has insisted on her submitting to the domination and control of the defendant's father and mother."

The wife, who is at present residing with her parents at 4733 Bloomington avenue south, asks for absolute divorce and custody of Robert, 15-months-old son. The couple were married in Minneapolis June 8, 1922.

BLOND GIRLS WITH BLUE EYES ARE FAVORITES

ARE MOST WANTED CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION, RECORDS SHOW

CHILD WELFARE COMMITTEE OF AMERICAN LEGION COMPILES STATISTICS

St. Paul, June 5. — "Blond girls with blue eyes."

This is the embodiment of infant beauty, judging from letters being received by the child welfare committee of the American Legion from persons throughout the country who wish to adopt war orphans. Brunettes may be the "vamps" when they are grown, but the blonds charm from the cradle, the letters indicate.

"We should like an orphan girl, 5 to 8 years old, blond preferred," writes a doctor.

"I desire a girl, 1 to 3 years old, with light hair and blue eyes," states a letter from a woman in the Dakotas.

These letters are typical of the scores being received. The blonds are the more popular by a wide margin.

More homes are offered girls than boys, Miss Emma Puschner, of St. Louis, the new field secretary of the child welfare committee, pointed out. She explained this by the fact that the wives, who usually are given the decision in the choice of the child, believe the girls will be better companions for them when they grow up.

To place all of America's war orphans, girls with blond or brown hair and ruddy little boys, too, in good, American homes is one of the big purposes for which the American Legion is establishing a $5,000,000 endowment fund. The income from the fund will be used to maintain temporary homes, called billets, for the children and to help them realize their right to a happy childhood, proper education and a fair chance in life. The fund's earnings also will go to assisting disabled war veterans.

"The Legion's endowment fund campaign has awakened America to a realization of its responsibility toward the children of the men who lost their lives because of the war," Miss Puschner declared. "They are coming forward with a true spirit of patriotism and offering to be father and mother to the little tots for whom the war meant less of parental love and care."

(By United Press)

Oslo, Norway, June 5.—The Amundsen base ships, Farm and Hobby, were not intended to buck the Arctic ice in the hope of finding some trace of Captain Amundsen and his polar air explorers.

The Norwegian Aero Club discussed plans for sending another vessel into the ice north of Spitzbergen from which point the pole hunters hopped off more than a fortnight ago.

FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1925

A MOTHER'S LOVE

ARTHUR LOPEZ on trial in federal court in St. Paul, has been declared an imposter and not Arthur Frazier, Indian world war veteran.

Mrs. Hannah Frazier, who testified Lopez is her son, refused to accept this verdict of the jury and with her faith unshaken, said: "I guess I know my own son better than 12 strange men do."

She intimated she would take steps legally to adopt him if the high court also decided against him. Latest news reports now indicate that no appeal will be taken.

"He is my son, Arthur Frazier," said Mrs. Frazier in conclusion, "and we are going to take him back home with us." The case in question has been one of the strangest of its kind. To prove Frazier officially and legally dead, the government has spent more than $25,000. Had the alleged Lopez been declared Frazier, he would have secured veterans compensation amounting to about $4,500.

Had Lopez been declared Frazier, the government would have faced the quandary of ascertaining the identity of the soldier buried at Niobrara, Neb., which it maintains is the body of Frazier.

If testimony of a mother, father, two sisters, alleged relatives of the man now declared to be Lopez, failed to establish his identity as "Frazier," then it behooves every mother to permanently mark her offspring. Maternity hospitals of the larger cities now make foot prints as well as finger prints of the babies born there to assist in their identification.

Many a citizen is careless in regard to birth records, church baptism, etc. That was ascertained during the war period, when the matter of exact identity had to be established. A corporation is very careful to mark its material, etc. A cattleman has an established brand. It may become necessary to get accurate data on human offspring as effectively as is accomplished by the maternity hospitals of the larger cities.

STANDARDIZING CHILDREN

IN sending the Oregon school law to the junk pile of things unconstitutional, the United States supreme court unanimously held, in effect, that children are not wards of the state and that parents have a right to send them to any school they think best.

Among other things the court said: "The fundamental theory of liberty upon which all governments in this Union repose excludes any general power of the state to standardize its children by forcing them to accept instruction from public teachers only."

Had the Oregon school law been held constitutional, continues the St. Paul Daily News in its argument, it would then have been possible for such states as Tennessee to enact a similar law which, in connection with the present law forbidding the teaching of the theory of evolution in all schools receiving public support, would have made it impossible for the youth of such states to emerge from gross ignorance.

Undoubtedly this unanimous opinion will check to some extent the growing tendency to standardize not only children but all citizens by law. By establishing a pattern of 100 per cent Americanism, all a majority needed was enough law to make everything conform to the pattern and think, act and live their daily lives exactly as a tyrannical majority thought they ought to be lived.

There is more to the United States constitution han one amendment. The first ten, known as the bill of rights, must be preserved in all their original vitality.

STORM-PROOF TELEPHONE POLES

AMERICAN inventors are the most resourceful in the world and are quick to supply things needed. We would suggest their making a storm-proof telephone pole. Since the big storm hit the Twin Cities and vicinity, telephone and telegraph poles have fallen to the ground like grain before the reaper or like our lawn grass when the Lady of the House is supervising or driving the lawn mower of Her Husband from the back seat.

Last night Brainerd had a little storm and electric signs were broken, trees uprooted and telephone poles were snatched up by the fury of the wind and telephone service materially affected.

Reinforced concrete poles may succeed the wood poles. They may cost more, but once set, they will "stay put." If that doesn't hold, telephone engineers may bury their wires in conduits as they do in large cities and small talk of the nation like the oil of the Rockefellers will pass through pipe lines.

Radio, when most depended upon, failed to fill the gap during the storm and stress period, so far as Brainerd is concerned. There was so much static and other interference that little news was secured from a radio source.

Working like Trojans, the companies are seeking to restore their lines of communication, but it is disheartening to find a day's repair work upset by more playful antics of a June wind.

"PUSSYFOOT" JOHNSON, who first dried the Indian treaty country here, was a speaker at Bemidji recently. He said he believed the 18th amendment in America is the forerunner of a dry world. For the past six years he has had his headquarters in England and has traveled extensively throughout Europe and Asia, spreading his doctrines.

HIGHWAY PROGRAM NOW 4 YEARS OLD

BRIEF REVIEW OF STATE HIGHWAY BETTERMENTS UNDER BABCOCK PLAN

The fourth "birthday" of Minnesota's new program of highway betterment having recently passed without great ostentation, a current highway bulletin summarizes achievements to date under the so-called "Babcock good roads plan."

Readers of The Dispatch, the bulletin suggests, may recall how the state highway department, starting from "scratch" late in the spring of 1921, set out to demonstrate in every part of Minnesota that the new good roads plan was rightly named. They may agree, it adds, that not only did systematic maintenance spread immediate benefits over every foot of the big 7,000-mile system, but that construction operations have established new highway standards in every county in Mnnesota.

When the counties turned over the newly designated trunk highways to the state in 1921 for future improvement and maintenance, they listed 1,499 miles as graded, 1,371 miles gravel-surfaced and 66 miles paved. Just four years of the state program, official figures show, have increased improvement totals to 4,797 miles graded, 5,334 graveled and 556 miles paved. New highway bridges of 32,000 feet or nearly 6 miles length have been built.

Maintenance or upkeep operations under the new program to date, topped by daily dragging and general care of every section of the system, include also 2,610 miles of re-grading or re-shaping, and 2,266 miles of re-graveling. The same department has given Minnesota trunk routes the yellow and black system of marking, caution and direction signs, which have attracted national commendation. Bridge maintenance added replacements of 87 bridges, repainting of 225 and repairs on 319 bridges.

New plan progress is given in dollars as well as in miles of improvements. Expenditures aggregated $60,000,000 in round numbers. Of that sum, $33,600,000 was from county reimbursement bonds, $8,400,000 from federal highway aid and $28,000,000 from motor vehicle taxes. During the same period, however, more than $65,000,000 was spent on local roads which serve only a fifth as many users.

Commenting on results of the first four years, the bulletin states that highway officials admit one mistake: construction of too many miles of gravel roads which have run up the upkeep cost of the big system. They lay the mistake to anxiety to "pull Minnesota out of the mud" and to make every mile of state highway passable without avoidable delays. Otherwise, however, the accomplishments are regarded as creditable, especially in view of the United States bureau of public roads report that Minnesota highway dollars are being made to go farther than those of the average state.

Although the better highways built the first four years are earning more than their cost for the automobile and truck owners who are paying all the expenses, the bulletin continued, Minnesota must slow up the program for a couple of years. Motor vehicle tax income may exceed the average for past years, it explains, and gasoline taxes are being collected at a rate of $4,000,000 a year. But the bond account instead of increasing available funds an average of about $8,000,000 a year, is taking out about $3,500,000. The net result is a reduction of more than fifty per cent in the amount available for actual road building and a proportionate curtailment in the new improvements that can be made.

Criticizes Banking Department

Editor Brainerd Dispatch:-

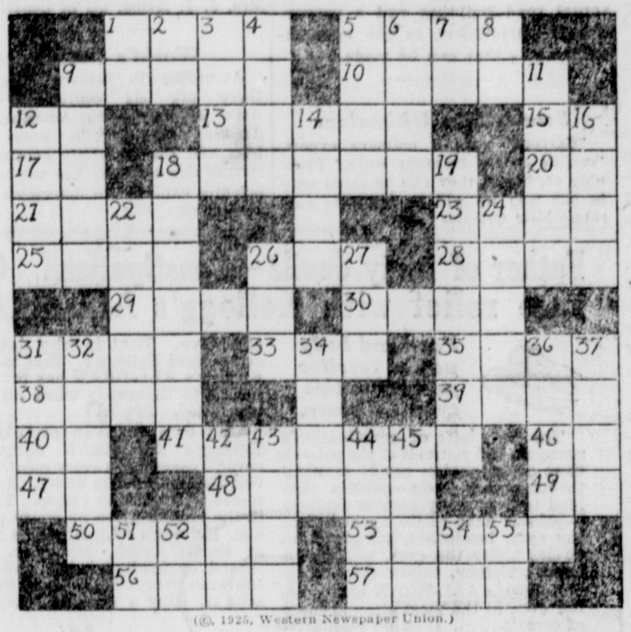

I note your grand jury criticized the directors of the Brainerd State Bank. They should have criticized far more severely the state banking department which was supposed to know what the bank was doing and how it stood all the time. The bank paid for having its books examined by the state examiners and the directors were justified in relying upon such examination.

STORM DID DAMAGE HERE

Breaking Trees And Telephone Poles, Breaking Light And Telephone Wires

ELECTRIC SIGNS SMASHED

At Tourist Park Tree Blown Down Broke Light Wire and Put Camp in Darkness

Last night's storm did much damage to property in and about Brainerd, chiefly by breaking over trees and telephone poles, and breaking electric light and telephone wires.

A number of fine trees were torn out by the roots, among them being a tree in the depot park, a large tree across the street from the public library, and one in the yard of Mrs. MacDonald, corner of Kingwood and Sixth streets. Branches from many trees were torn off in all sections of the city.

A tree in front of the J. B. Williams home, North Ninth street, was blown down, and broke the electric light wires, as did also falling trees on East Maple and Laurel streets.

It is reported that trees on the Iver Storstad farm, south of the city were literally mowed down in the path of the storm. Similar reports come from east Oak street and on the Highway 27 detour.

On Oak street many telephone poles were broken down and trees falling broke telephone wires, so that service on these lines was completely demoralized.

E. W. Nelson, salesman for the James Barn Equipment Co., was caught in the storm near Freedhem, on the Highway No. 27 detour south of Brainerd. He states that lightning struck so close to his car and to that of Wm. V. Turcotte who was just behind him, that it put the lighting systems of both cars out of commission, and they were forced to stop until the high wind had subsided. Mr. Nelson had one extra light bulb in his car, which was used to light the way for both machines into Brainerd.

In the downtown district the storm blew down the electric signs at the New Park theatre and at the Franson Motor Co. garage, and broke a window in the Chinese laundry, just west of the garage.

No little commotion was caused by the storm at the Brainerd tourist park. One of the pine trees was blown down, breaking the electric light wires, and putting the park in total darkness.

Visitors left their tents and found shelter in the care-takers house at the park until the storm had passed. None of the tents was blown down, or any tourist property damaged.

As soon as the storm had passed Chief of Police Roy N. Zierke with Patrolman Erick Graff went to the tourist park to assist if any help were needed in righting tents, etc. While the assistance was not needed, still it was appreciated, as several tourists stopped this morning to express their appreciation to the park board, and were glad to know that their welfare was kept in mind while visiting in the city.

The large cattle barn at the Gruenhagen dairy farm just south of the city on the Thirteenth street road was moved several inches on its foundation by the high wind. Several small buildings in the city were also moved or blown over.

The electrical storm of Thursday morning is said to have struck the Iver Storstad dairy barn, while the owner was milking. The lightning put the electric power service in the barn out of commission, so that it was impossible to complete the milking with the milking machines. The heavy rain is thought to have kept the building from burning. Several of the cows in the barn were stunned and all were panic-stricken, it is reported.

A telephone message was received by the Dispatch from Woodrow, stating that the storm assumed tornado proportions in that district at about 9:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

The barn on the A. H. Aspholm farm was demolished, and seven cows pinned under the fallen roof of the structure. One of these cows was killed, the other six were rescued little the worse for the experience.

The barn on the McIntyre farm, now owned by Mr. Livingston, near Woodrow, was also blown to pieces. Large trees in that vicinity were uprooted and telephone lines damaged.

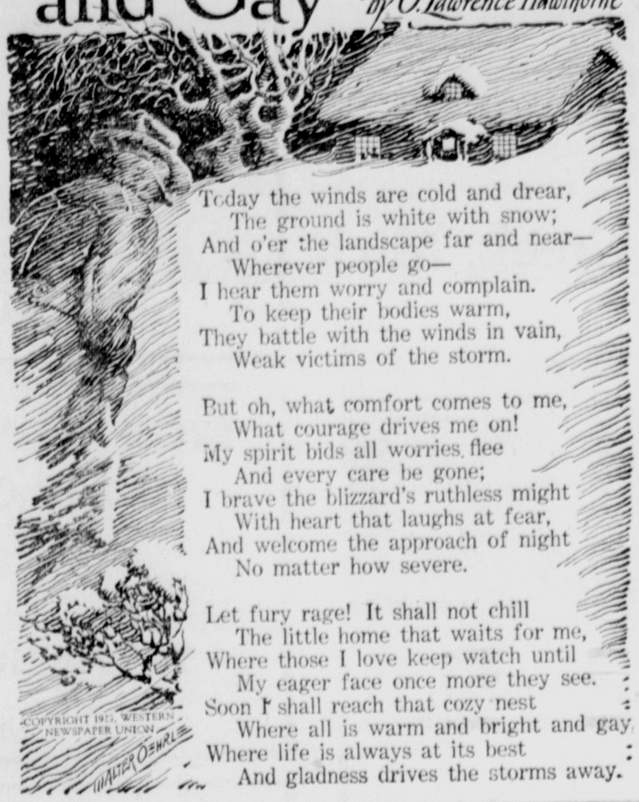

The barn on the Hildebrandt farm, in South Long Lake township, is reported as having been demolished.

The ornamental door at the Olympia Candy Kitchen was broken by the force of the storm.

Where All is Warm and Gay

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

Today the winds are cold and drear,
The ground is white with snow;
And o'er the landscape far and near—
Wherever people go—
I hear them worry and complain.
To keep their bodies warm,
They battle with the winds in vain,
Weak victims of the storm.

But oh, what comfort comes to me,
What courage drives me on!
My spirit bids all worries flee
And every care be gone;
I brave the blizzard's ruthless might
With heart that laughs at fear,
And welcome the approach of night
No matter how severe.

Let fury rage! It shall not chill
The little home that waits for me,
Where those I love keep watch until
My eager face once more they see.
Soon I shall reach that cozy nest
Where all is warm and bright and gay
Where life is always at its best
And gladness drives the storms away.

HONOR MISS BARRON

Miss Nora M. Barron, Former Brainerd Girl, New President of Teachers League

The Minneapolis Journal of Thursday evening, June 4th, carried a picture of Miss Nora M. Barron, together with the following news story:

"Miss Nora M. Barron, English teacher at Lincoln junior high school is the new president of the Minneapolis Teachers' League, elected at a recent annual meeting to succeed Charles R. Richardson. The League will resume activities under Miss Barron's direction in September."

Miss Barron is a daughter of Wm. Barron, former well known Brainerd resident, and a sister of Gerald Barron, of Cloquet, former state commander of the American Legion, and of Rowland Barron, state examiner of weights and measures.

She is a graduate of the Brainerd high school, class of 1913, and has many friends in the city who will be glad to learn of her election to the responsible post as president of the Minneapolis Teachers' League.

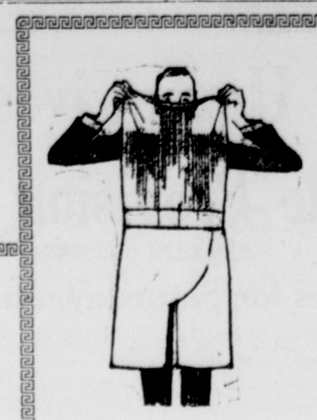

The Barron family lived in Brainerd until 1917, when they moved to Riverton. Their present home could not be learned at this time.

V. LOCKWOOD IS RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT

Again Heads 15th District Organization Minnesota Cooperative Creamery Association

BUTTER CONTEST HELD

All of Butter Entered Was of Exceptionally High Quality, None Below 91 Points

V. Lockwood, of Motley was re-elected president of the Fifteenth District organization of the Minnesota Co-operative Creamery Association, which met in Brainerd on Thursday, and Lawrence McCulloch, of Oak Lawn township, was elected first vice president. The complete list of newly elected officers is as follows

President—V. Lockwood, Motley.

First Vice President—Lawrence McCulloch, Brainerd.

Second Vice President—B. B. Bates, Randall.

Secretary—J. N. Carnes, Royalton.

Treasurer—J. W. Hanson, Little Falls.

Brainerd was well represented in the butter-making contest, which was held as a special feature of the meeting, a local farmer scoring next to the highest, with only a quarter of a point between his butter and that which took first prize. All of the butter entered was of exceptionally high quality, none of it scoring below 91 points, with the highest 93¼ points.

Prizes in Butter Making

In the sweet cream butter class, Albert West, of Motley won first prize, a beautiful silver loving cup with a score of 93¼. Second prize went to William Handeland, of Brainerd, a silver cake server, for a score of 93.

In the sour cream, or starter butter class, C. L. Walters, of Randall, scored first, 93¼, and was given a silver loving cup. John Erickson, of Swanville, with a score of 93, won second prize, a sliver cake server. Other contestants, with their scores, were as follows:

Sweet cream butter—Henry Kopishke, Leader, 92; Emil Winger, Blackduck, 92; E. O. Strand, 92; W. Henderson, Little Fork, 92, Oscar Martinson, 91.

Sour cream butter—Fred Carlson, Aitkin, 92; H. Larson, Jenkins, 91.

George W. Hagberg, of Duluth federal butter inspector, acted as judge in the contest.

H. F. Meyer's Address

H. F. Meyer, of St. Paul, manager of the butter sales department of the Minnesota Co-operative Creamery Association, made an excellent address at the Thursday afternoon session, held in the farmers room at the court house. He explained the operation of the sales department, showed samples of the packages used in putting the product into the hands of the consumer.

Special mention was made by Mr. Meyer of the new departure of the association, in placing sweet cream from Minnesota on the eastern markets. This high quality sweet cream is packed in ice in baggage cars, and sent by fast express trains to the eastern cities, and is placed on the tables of Philadelphia, Washington and New York consumers on the third morning from the day of shipment.

This sweet cream service was started in March, and has grown so rapidly that the association now has more orders than it can fill. The time is coming, said Mr. Meyer, when Minnesota will furnish a large part of the sweet cream used in the eastern cities.

The speaker explained that shipping this sweet cream instead of making it into butter and then shipping it east, was done for a specific purpose. If it were made into butter, it would have a tendency to flood the eastern market, thus demoralizing the price of that product. But by shipping the sweet cream instead, it keeps the butter market steady, and below the saturation point.

During the first three days of the current week, 42 cars of butter were shipped east, said Mr. Meyer. Six carloads of this shipment went to New York city, the balance was placed on new markets, such as Boston, Mass., Providence, R. I., and New Haven, Conn., showing that the reputation of "Land O' Lakes" butter is growing rapidly and the demand steadily increasing. "Today, June 4th, we are opening still another new market, for today a carload of "Land O' Lakes" butter started across the continent west to California, going to Los Angeles," said the speaker.

George Hagberg, federal butter inspector, gave an interesting address, in which he explained the work of his department, and the manner of scoring butter. He also told the delegates the proper way in which to handle their cream in order to get butter with a high score.

Resolutions Adopted

The committee on resolutions brought in its report in which the approval and appreciation of the work done by the association, and especially that of President John Brandt, General Manager A. J. McGuire and Sales Manager H. F. Meyers, in building up the reputation of Minnesota butter.

Thanks were extended to the officers of the state association for helping to successfully resist the efforts of opponents of co-operative marketing, and to those senators and representatives who so ably defended the co-operative marketing act.

The resolutions favored the enactment of an anti-discrimination law, covering all farm products, making it illegal for any person or persons to offer or pay a higher price for farm products in one locality than in another, taking into consideration the transportation differential.

It was resolved that this district favors and asks an increased tariff on butter, cheese and other dairy products.

Acknowledgement and thanks was given to the Minnesota press and to the local newspapers for support of the co-operative marketing cause and the excellent publicity given the association's activities.

Deep sympathy and condolence was expressed to the family of H. B. Nickerson, state secretary of the Minnesota Co-operative Creamery Association, who was accidentally killed on his farm this week. Mr. Nickerson was one of the pioneers in the building up of the co-operative marketing movement in this state.

The annual meeting next year will be held at Little Falls, on the first Thursday in June. Executive meetings are held subject to the call of the president. Thursday's meeting was conceded by all delegates to have been one of the most successful of its kind ever held in the state.

H. F. Meyer's Address

H. F. Meyer, of St. Paul, manager of the butter sales department of the Minnesota Co-operative Creamery Association, made an excellent address at the Thursday afternoon session, held in the farmers room at the court house. He explained the operation of the sales department, showed samples of the packages used in putting the product into the hands of the consumer.

Special mention was made by Mr. Meyer of the new departure of the association, in placing sweet cream from Minnesota on the eastern markets. This high quality sweet cream is packed in ice in baggage cars, and sent by fast express trains to the eastern cities, and is placed on the tables of Philadelphia, Washington and New York consumers on the third morning from the day of shipment.

This sweet cream service was started in March, and has grown so rapidly that the association now has more orders than it can fill. The time is coming, said Mr. Meyer, when Minnesota will furnish a large part of the sweet cream used in the eastern cities.

The speaker explained that shipping this sweet cream instead of making it into butter and then shipping it east, was done for a specific purpose. If it were made into butter, it would have a tendency to flood the eastern market, thus demoralizing the price of that product. But by shipping the sweet cream instead, it keeps the butter market steady, and below the saturation point.

During the first three days of the current week, 42 cars of butter were shipped east, said Mr. Meyer. WASHINGTON FAVORITE AT POUGHKEEPSIE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 5.—Washington, Navy and Pennsylvania are expected to supply the interest and furnish most of the competition in the coming intercollegiate rowing championships on the Hudson river course at Poughkeepsie, June 22.

The rest of the field is very ordinary. Columbia is terrible—one wit remarking after the Childs Cup race, in which Columbia finished far behind Pennsylvania and Princeton, that Columbia would have to improve mightily to even finish at all at Poughkeepsie. Cornell and Syracuse are only fair, neither boat being up to the class of former years.

Washington is said to be a great crew and it must have had class to give such a bad beating to a California crew that was reported to have been a very good eight. Washington beat California by something like fifteen lengths in the race for the Pacific Coast championship.

Until recently Washington had been a general choice in the East and would have carried heavy odds in the betting. The Navy crew now looks like the "hope" of the East, but the Washington eight will start the race as the favorite.

Rowing recently against Harvard and Syracuse on the Severn river, the Navy eight, a big rangy powerful crew, made a new course record of 9:26 4-5 for two miles and won easily pulling of stroke of 38. Critics who saw the race said that the crew which young Dick Glendon turned out is almost as good as his father's Olympic champions of 1920, and his intercollegiate champions of 1921 and 1922. The Glendon system from results is an established success and young Glendon merely picked up where his father left off.

Pennsylvania has a great coach in Jim Rice, who was named when Joe Wright resigned because of differences with the graduate rowing committee. What Penn does at Poughkeepsie depends largely upon what Rice is able to do with the crew in the last two weeks. Wright had been fooling around with the crews and it was argued against him that he should have put the eight best men in one boat instead of trying to keep two fair crews. There are also some student and fraternity politics that have to be dealt with.

Rice said after the Childs Cup race, which Penn won handily, that he wasn't satisfied with the varsity crew and that he would have to make several changes. He had been working all season with the freshman crew and he has developed a young eight that is one of the best ever seen on the water around here.

AMUSEMENTS

Sinclair Lewis Novel Filmed

Only such a master of characterization as Sinclair Lewis could have built up a "Babbitt," typical of the American business man of practical exterior, whose heart is young with dreams of romance. And, it is this story of "Babbitt," in all its realism and wistfulness that will be shown at the New Park last time tonight.

No Pity, Please

A woman will put up with neglect, ill treatment, even abuse from the man she loves; she will not accept his pity.

On this psychological truth is based one of the central situations in "The Tenth Woman," the screen version of the popular Harriet T. Comstock novel of the same name, announced for showing at the New Park Saturday only.

Pretty Film Star Would Give Men Kissing Lessons

In "Love's Wilderness," showing at the New Park Sunday and Monday, you will observe Holmes Herbert place a gentle kiss upon the cheek of his leading lady, Corinne Griffith.

That, according to Corinne, is the proper manner in which a man should kiss a woman, and she laments the fact, as she alleges, that "it isn't being done any more."

Orchestra at New Park Sunday Night at Regular Prices

The Dickie-Earle University Orchestra will play at the New Park Sunday night with the "special picture," "Love's Wilderness," all for regular prices.

"Dick Turpin" Ends Run Here Tonight

"Dick Turpin" leaves the Lyceum Theatre tonight in the person of Tom Mix and a decidedly exciting impression he has made. With all the color and romance of the eighteenth century he has woven as thrilling a story of highwaymen, high society and the prize ring as would be desired. He has capped this with a reproduction of his celebrated ride to York.

"Man and Maid," the Third of Elinor Glyn Series

Elinor Glyn's third personally supervised production is coming to the Lyceum Theatre on Sunday. This is "Man and Maid," which she adapted from her novel and which is presented by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Madame Glyn's first production of "Three Weeks" was mostly backgrounded by Italy. That told the beautiful love story of a queen.

Her second feature was "His Hour," and presented the vivid story of a dashing Russian prince. The locale was on the desert of Egypt and then in his own country.

GAME TWICE POSTPONED, PLAYED TONIGHT

CITY PLAYERS AND N. P. SHOPS TEAMS TO MEET AT KOERING FIELD

DIAMOND HAS BEEN DRAINED, SANDED, PUT IN GOOD SHAPE

The baseball game between the city players and the N. P. Shops team which has been postponed twice on account of rain, will be played this Friday evening at the new Athletic park, it was announced this afternoon. The diamond has been drained and sanded, and it said to be in good condition.

This promises to be a fast game, and one filled with thrills from beginnnig to end. A purse of $50 was to have been divided between the two teams on a 60-40 basis, but it is understood that this arrangement has been changed so that the winning team takes the whole amount. Each nine will play its best to win the purse, with the result that the game will be well worth attending.

The shops team has been taking advantage of the postponements and has its men in excellent practice for tonight's battle. They are confident of carrying home the $50.

B. C. McNamara's city players are equally confident of carrying home the prize. Dave Soderlund will pitch and has been nursing his injured arm so that it is now in fine shape for twirling.

Both teams are very evenly matched. In the other game in which they crossed bats, the score resulted in a tie of 7 to 7, an extra inning being played. Local fans are promised an even better tilt than this at tonight's game, and it is hoped that there will be a large number out. The game is called for 5:30 o'clock.

A Banquet That Was Almost a Tragedy

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe colic attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.—Advt.

WASHINGTON FAVORITE AT POUGHKEEPSIE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 5.—Washington, Navy and Pennsylvania are expected to supply the interest and furnish most of the competition in the coming intercollegiate rowing championships on the Hudson river course at Poughkeepsie, June 22.

The rest of the field is very ordinary. Columbia is terrible—one wit remarking after the Childs Cup race, in which Columbia finished far behind Pennsylvania and Princeton, that Columbia would have to improve mightily to even finish at all at Poughkeepsie. Cornell and Syracuse are only fair, neither boat being up to the class of former years.

Washington is said to be a great crew and it must have had class to give such a bad beating to a California crew that was reported to have been a very good eight. Washington beat California by something like fifteen lengths in the race for the Pacific Coast championship.

Until recently Washington had been a general choice in the East and would have carried heavy odds in the betting. The Navy crew now looks like the "hope" of the East, but the Washington eight will start the race as the favorite.

Rowing recently against Harvard and Syracuse on the Severn river, the Navy eight, a big rangy powerful crew, made a new course record of 9:26 4-5 for two miles and won easily pulling of stroke of 38. Critics who saw the race said that the crew which young Dick Glendon turned out is almost as good as his father's Olympic champions of 1920, and his intercollegiate champions of 1921 and 1922. The Glendon system from results is an established success and young Glendon merely picked up where his father left off.

Pennsylvania has a great coach in Jim Rice, who was named when Joe Wright resigned because of differences with the graduate rowing committee. What Penn does at Poughkeepsie depends largely upon what Rice is able to do with the crew in the last two weeks. Wright had been fooling around with the crews and it was argued against him that he should have put the eight best men in one boat instead of trying to keep two fair crews. There are also some student and fraternity politics that have to be dealt with.

Rice said after the Childs Cup race, which Penn won handily, that he wasn't satisfied with the varsity crew and that he would have to make several changes. He had been working all season with the freshman crew and he has developed a young eight that is one of the best ever seen on the water around here.

AMUSEMENTS

Sinclair Lewis Novel Filmed

Only such a master of characterization as Sinclair Lewis could have built up a "Babbitt," typical of the American business man of practical exterior, whose heart is young with dreams of romance. And, it is this story of "Babbitt," in all its realism and wistfulness that will be shown at the New Park last time tonight.

No Pity, Please

A woman will put up with neglect, ill treatment, even abuse from the man she loves; she will not accept his pity.

On this psychological truth is based one of the central situations in "The Tenth Woman," the screen version of the popular Harriet T. Comstock novel of the same name, announced for showing at the New Park Saturday only.

Pretty Film Star Would Give Men Kissing Lessons

In "Love's Wilderness," showing at the New Park Sunday and Monday, you will observe Holmes Herbert place a gentle kiss upon the cheek of his leading lady, Corinne Griffith.

That, according to Corinne, is the proper manner in which a man should kiss a woman, and she laments the fact, as she alleges, that "it isn't being done any more."

Orchestra at New Park Sunday Night at Regular Prices

The Dickie-Earle University Orchestra will play at the New Park Sunday night with the "special picture," "Love's Wilderness," all for regular prices.

"Dick Turpin" Ends Run Here Tonight

"Dick Turpin" leaves the Lyceum Theatre tonight in the person of Tom Mix and a decidedly exciting impression he has made. With all the color and romance of the eighteenth century he has woven as thrilling a story of highwaymen, high society and the prize ring as would be desired. He has capped this with a reproduction of his celebrated ride to York.

"Man and Maid," the Third of Elinor Glyn Series

Elinor Glyn's third personally supervised production is coming to the Lyceum Theatre on Sunday. This is "Man and Maid," which she adapted from her novel and which is presented by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Madame Glyn's first production of "Three Weeks" was mostly backgrounded by Italy. That told the beautiful love story of a queen.

Her second feature was "His Hour," and presented the vivid story of a dashing Russian prince. The locale was on the desert of Egypt and then in his own country.

The youths recently pleaded guilty to petit larceny in connection with numerous thefts of tires and other automobile accessories.

GAME TWICE POSTPONED, PLAYED TONIGHT

CITY PLAYERS AND N. P. SHOPS TEAMS TO MEET AT KOERING FIELD

DIAMOND HAS BEEN DRAINED, SANDED, PUT IN GOOD SHAPE

The baseball game between the city players and the N. P. Shops team which has been postponed twice on account of rain, will be played this Friday evening at the new Athletic park, it was announced this afternoon. The diamond has been drained and sanded, and it said to be in good condition.

This promises to be a fast game, and one filled with thrills from beginnnig to end. A purse of $50 was to have been divided between the two teams on a 60-40 basis, but it is understood that this arrangement has been changed so that the winning team takes the whole amount. Each nine will play its best to win the purse, with the result that the game will be well worth attending.

The shops team has been taking advantage of the postponements and has its men in excellent practice for tonight's battle. They are confident of carrying home the $50.

B. C. McNamara's city players are equally confident of carrying home the prize. Dave Soderlund will pitch and has been nursing his injured arm so that it is now in fine shape for twirling.

Both teams are very evenly matched. In the other game in which they crossed bats, the score resulted in a tie of 7 to 7, an extra inning being played. Local fans are promised an even better tilt than this at tonight's game, and it is hoped that there will be a large number out. The game is called for 5:30 o'clock.

A Banquet That Was Almost a Tragedy

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe colic attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.—Advt.
